A huge thank you to the parents in the middle school who have been extremely helpful, and generous with donating equipment and ingredients for the amazing cooking and experiments that have been going on... every bit helps us provide a more exciting curriculum for our students.

Thank you to the parents who sent in your survey answers. The main outcome is that overall everyone wants more trips, and experiences. This is a great outcome and teams are now planning trips this term for each area of the school. At COVID orange level it gives us the freedom to do more and plan events outside of the school.

Dear Crocodile,

Please stop terrorising kids in town. Would you like it if we disguised ourselves as a coconut tree or a merry-go-round animal? Well, I don't think it's fair! If you do one more trick, you don't want to see what's coming your way. And, also if you hurt anyone, you'll be answering to me!

From Ruby.

Dear Crocodile,

Please do not eat my family or friends. You are not very nice! Stop eating everyone! I am so mad at you.

From Millie

Dear Crocodile,

Please stop trying to eat my friends because they keep telling me once a day when I come back from my house. It's giving me a headache, so find some fish and stuff. And if you do I will call the hunters to hunt you down.

From Atolofi

Year 3 & 4 Letters - by Rm 7

Dear Crocodile,

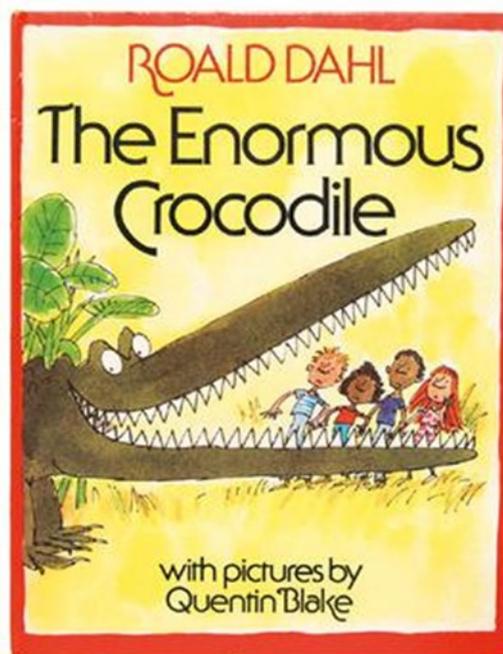

Please stop hurting children! Don't come back and stop hurting my family and please don't come to hurt my friends. It's not nice at all.

From Elisha

Dear Crocodile,

I do not like what you are doing so stop it now! I do not like you to pretend to be something you're not and tricking my friend and me. I hate how you are doing this to everybody in this town.

From Carys

Dear Crocodile,

Please go back to your muddy pond where you belong. Please don't do tricks on us because we won't fall for it, and we want to grow up! Crocodile, please don't be mean, you'll make some of us terrified and we don't like you. We don't care if you're hungry. Go away please! I hope you get captured and turned into delicious crocodile stew! I hope you're shaking in your shoes.

From Amaia

Dear Crocodile,

I need you to stop trying to eat little kids. I know you're hungry, but for an adult, that is irresponsible! Stay away from my friends and family, or I will hunt you down and make you leave. And don't you think you are going to pull another one of your tricks on kids that don't know you yet, so get away! From Jordyn

Dear Crocodile,

Please stop tricking my family and friends and please stay away and go to your own place. And if you're hungry don't eat any more people! Make your own food. I am really mad because you keep on coming and hurting my family! So please stop hurting everyone and cursing everyone. Go to your own place.

From Stella

Dear Crocodile,

Please stop, you are a mean crocodile. I saw you at the merry-go-round! And do not eat my friends and my family. I am angry at you, you are a bad and mean crocodile.

From Nouvelle

Dear Crocodile,

Please stop this nonsense and stop eating children. Stop trying to be a bench. From Amir

Dear Crocodile,

Please stop using lots of tricks that bug us. And this is nonsense and very stressing to us. And once again, stop eating us children. Please stop it!

From James

Dear Crocodile,

Please stop! I'm a little girl and I heard you have children for lunch, dinner, and breakfast. Please stop! And if you do not stop, you are a silly fool and I know people do not want you to be a silly fool, so stop. We do not want you to be a seesaw or a merry-go-round because the things you do are nonsense.
