Thank you everyone for managing to come to school last week even with all of the rain and windy conditions. School is back in full swing and learning programmes up and running.

Next week we have our parent / teacher conferences. Thank you for sending the forms back so quickly as this helps enormously with scheduling the times for the interview.

I look forward to seeing you all here, next week and engaging in rich discussions around your child/ children's learning.

100th Day Celebration

By Shae-Leigh

On Thursday we reached 100 days at school. We got to finish our 100-day smarty pants glasses by colouring and cutting them out. When I finished them, Mrs S put tape on my glasses so that I could wear them.

I really liked my glasses, but couldn't see well while wearing them. While we were doing some activities. Mrs S was giving out candy. I got Skittles and it was very yum. At the end of the day we all got a lollipop and mine was a green one. I felt really happy, because school was really fun.

Yesterday room 5 reached one hundred days at school. My favourite part was the jokes. I got to share a really funny joke. My joke was, "Why was six scared of seven? Because seven ate nine". Others had a better joke than mine; like: "Why did the baby tomato cry? Because it couldn't ketchup to its mum." I also really liked walking into our class and seeing the cool balloons. We also had some treats, like Skittles, Hundred and thousand doughnut cookies and a lollipop. At the end of the school day, Sidney offered me his balloon, but I said no. It was so much fun, because we played Chinese Wall.

Reaching 100 Days

The jokes were very funny. We were playing Buzz a counting game. Then we made a "bucket list". I was happy because we got to 100 days of learning.

Yesterday was one hundred days at school and we made smarty pants glasses. After my friend Bianca was done with her glasses, we all sat on the mat and our teacher Mrs S, took a photo of us. We saw balloons when we came into the class in the morning and I got a purple one. We were naming 100 animals and after that we played Chinese Wall and then Buzz. When we played Buzz, we reached 100. We tried to play Buzz backwards from 100 but we couldn't do it. After Buzz we were telling jokes. Ethan and Jori's jokes were very funny. While we were playing those games we got some candy and it was Skittles. At the end of the day our teacher gave us each a lollipop and we got to take our balloons home too.

Yesterday at school we reached one hundred days of learning at school. We had one balloon each on our chairs and my one was dark purple. Judah had a red one. We all wore our One Hundred Day smarty pants glasses and we took some photos with them on. We played games and told some jokes. I had a joke and it was: "Is your nose running? Yes! Then go catch it!" Then we had some candy. It was the best day ever, because I felt happy celebrating our day.

Yesterday we reached 100 days of learning at school. When we came into the classroom there were balloons on our chairs and "Happy 100 Days" written on the board. There were activity sheets to do. We played Chinese Wall and In the River, On the Bank. We also made our One Hundred Day smarty pants glasses. I was happy, because we did a little bit of learning.
